

Doubletree Suites by Hilton Phoenix Welcomes Brian Bell as New Director of Sales & Marketing

Phoenix, AZ, September 21, 2018 - The Doubletree Suites by Hilton Phoenix is proud to announce that Brian Bell has been appointed as Director of Sales and Marketing. In this role, Bell will be responsible for the overall operation of the hotel's sales and marketing activities, with the goal of attaining maximum revenue and profit, while consistently providing guests with the highest level of quality service.

Brian earned a Tourism Management degree from Arizona State University, and began a career in hotel sales with several Hilton brands, including Hilton Garden Inn, Embassy Suites and Hilton Hotels & Resorts. His career has taken him from Phoenix, AZ, to Reno and Las Vegas NV,

Brian has gained experience working with large sporting events and tournaments, government programs, corporate meetings, religious retreats among many other groups. He has developed a keen understanding of the unique needs of different markets, from business travelers to group events. After many years listening to travelers in different markets and cities, Brian has learned that at the end of the day, it's customer service and experiences that make a lasting impression on clients. "The look of relief when we deliver the perfect suite for a business traveler after a long day of travel, and the jubilation that occurs when a meeting planner watches their group enjoying an amazing event – those are the moments I live for," stated Brian.

Brian is able to use his passion for the hospitality industry and his love for the area to show visitors how amazing Phoenix is. "I am excited to represent a quality property, shortly emerging from a multimillion dollar top to bottom renovation! The diligent team, and outstanding, central location provide a product I am proud to stand behind. I am eager to be a part of the continued success of this popular property." Brian joined the team at Doubletree Phoenix in September, 2018.
